HOW WE WORK

For each matter we choose the attorney (or attorney team) with the best fit for the client's needs and value proposition, assessing subject matter expertise and legal specialization, efficiency, and previous success experience in similar cases. This approach generally translates to successful outcomes at significant time and cost savings, all to the client's benefit. We handle everything from filing to prosecution to litigation and opinions, and each of these activities strategically complements the other, leading to increased quality at each stage.
